

Industrial Engineer

 Industrial Engineering  Melaka, Malaysia  Full Time

Your tasks:

- Support product development projects and design production and test systems for new Leuze sensors with a focus on software and electronic - from conception through testing to commissioning, develop new software to support production capacity.
- Enhance and maintain existing software to eliminate human errors, improve equipment throughput, data process monitoring, failure detection, improving process control, and reducing manufacturing cost.
- Actively support the (further) development of high-performance software for test data and machine data acquisition systems in modern manufacturing environments, as well as production-related applications, web applications, and databases.
- Contribute your expertise to series production, for example, in fault analysis on production systems or the development of operating resources.
- Lead & support initiatives to improve performance.

Your qualifications:

- Min. bachelor's degree in Mechatronic, Automation, Electronic or any related field, with focus is software integration.
- >5 years' experience in programming machine software, preferably in (opto-) Electronic environment.
- Experience in programming in C#.NET, ASP.NET Core as well as Database in SQL is a plus.
- Multi-tasking environment & work independently with high level of personal responsibilities in fast growing environment.
- Professional experience in the field of testing and measurement technology
- Traveling overseas is a must.
- Understanding of German Culture in work practices to achieve high quality results.

Benefits

Flat structures
Individual development opportunities
Extensive induction with a wide range of practical insights
Individual onboarding concept

Great company cultures and values
Local and overseas learning opportunity
Safe and comfortable working environment

About us

Leuze is an international sensor and safety expert for automation technology. With curiosity and determination, we – the Sensor People – have been forerunners for innovations and technological milestones in industrial automation for 60 years. The success of our customers is what drives us.

Any questions?

Your contact Person is happy to answer questions regarding the position and the process.

HR Department

Telephone: +6 012-610 2577

Email: info.my@leuze.com