What you think a potential employer should know about you:

I am a German trained professional with over 20 years of experience across various sectors. Having lived and worked in multiple countries including Malaysia for 5 years, I possess a deep understanding of local and global business culture combined with German engineering precision. My career has evolved from IT, to Engineering, Trade, Creative Industry and Legal Operations, making me a highly adaptable "problem-solver" who can bridge technical gaps in any business environment.
